H.S.H Albert II will open the NGEF 2010!

The Next Generation Entrepreneur Forum (NGEF) team has the great honor to announce that the opening speech will be presented by H.S.H Albert II at the Grimaldi Forum, on Thursday May 6th.

The NGEF has always been a unique networking opportunity for business students from around the world who wish to start their own business either immediately after graduation, or in the future. But this year, they and the NGEF conference will be also honored by the support of H.S.H. Albert II.

Sir Stelios Haji-loannou, President of the NGEF Business Plan competition

It is with a great pleasure that we once again welcome Sir Stelios Haji-loannou, founder of the easyjet company, as the president of the NGEF Business Plan competition. Sir Stelios will be a keynote speaker on Friday May 7th, in the morning session and will also present the prize during the award ceremony. With a strategy based on the three E's - Education, Entrepreneurship and the Environment - , the Stelios philanthropic Foundation's mission statement is committed to dynamic philanthropy: making a positive, exponential difference through funding, inspiring and advising educational, entrepreneurial and environmental initiatives. The Foundation embraces far-reaching aspirations, innovative ideas and measurable change. In accordance with the values of its benefactor - Stelios Haji-loannou - it will serve as a pillar of support for its beneficiaries so that they can, in turn, make a difference themselves. Therefore, it is almost natural that Stelios and his foundation participate in the NGEF, which embraces the same values and message.
